Dear AAAS Members:

The Automotive Aftermarket Association Southeast Board of Directors is pleased to confirm our continued support of Federated Insurance® as the recommended insurance carrier for property & liability, and financial protection services. AAAS has been endorsing Federated Insurance since 2001.

Federated Insurance is experienced in working with trade associations like AAAS. In fact, many other associations, including numerous state and national automotive groups, recommend Federated Insurance to their members.

In business since 1904, Federated has the experience and financial strength to service AAAS members now and in the future. Their marketing representatives use the Right Report® to tailor coverages to meet your business's specific needs. They are able to assist members with appropriate business continuation and estate planning strategies through their network of independent attorneys. Federated marketing representatives will help you provide appropriate attention to the areas of loss that could be most catastrophic to your business. Federated also employs skilled risk management consultants who can help you identify and mitigate potential areas of loss in your business.

You owe it to yourself to talk to your local Federated Insurance Marketing Representative. I am confident you will receive valuable ideas to help you make the right decisions regarding property & liability, and financial protection services programs for your business.

Sincerely,

Randal H. Ward, CAE
President
